

Eu-HEM Career Event 2023

The European Master in Health Economics and Management (Eu-HEM) is a unique two-year master's programme, organised by four partnering universities (University of Oslo, Erasmus University Rotterdam, the University of Bologna, and the Management Center Innsbruck). This programme prepares you for a career in staff and executive positions in organizations and institutions involved in both national and international healthcare provision. Such as national hospitals, international pharmaceutical companies, aid organisations, governmental agencies, research institutions, etc.

The European Master in Health Economics and Management equips students with the right skills to take on health challenges worldwide. The program allows students to become experts in their field and to specialize in Population Health Management, Management of Healthcare Institutions, Economic Evaluation in Healthcare or Health Economics & Policy.

Each year, Eu-HEM arrange a Career Event where students are trained by professionals in job application and how to write a CV. Students are also trained on how to handle a job interview. At the Career Event, we also invite companies to present their company and to have mock-interviews and/or real job interviews with students two months before they graduate and enter the job market.

Key facts

- Reach ~ 60 students and graduates of 2023
- Present your company during the stakeholder presentation session
- Learn more about the motivation of students in job interviews. This can be mock interviews to support the students in their training for actual job interviews or you can also run "real" interviews. These interviews will be organised on May 4 and in the morning of May 5 in Dubrovnik.
- Attend the networking events in the beautiful city of Dubrovnik
- Benefit from the communication and social media posts on Twitter, LinkedIn and Instagram by the EU-HEM universities, current students and a large network of Eu-HEM alumni