IUC'S 45th ANNIVERSARY - GREETINGS

When IUC was established 45 years ago, as a forum for collaboration among universities, an important purpose was to build bridges between East and West during the cold war. However, the general program and activities of IUC were based on more global perspectives. IUC became a meeting place not only between East and West, but also between North and South, and universities from virtually all over the world joined IUC as members of the center.

Since 1972 the world has changed considerably. The cold war has ended, but new conflicts have emerged. In the processes towards internationalization and globalization a number of global challenges have become more visible, including problems related to human universal values and rights, climate change, health, education, poverty, and migration. During the past five years IUC has renewed and reformulated its vision, strengthening the global profile of the center as well as emphasizing and supporting inter-disciplinary and cross-national collaboration on major global challenges.

Currently the development of international politics seems to be more uncertain and less predictable than before. There is an increasing need for critical thinking and true knowledge about the challenges we are facing. The role of independent universities and cross-cultural university collaboration is becoming more and more important.

IUC is still very vital and valuable as an independent center for international university collaboration on advanced study. Since our 40th anniversary in 2012, the IUC has continued its main activities in a very successful way. The number of member institutions is stable, including about 170 universities from different parts of the world. Annually the center hosts between 60 and 75 courses and conferences, organized by more than 250 teachers from approximately 130 institutions in about 30 different countries, and involving between 1400 and 2000 participants. Last year we had a substantial increase in the number of courses and participants.

We are grateful to all supporters of IUC, in particular to the University of Zagreb for hosting the center in Dubrovnik, as well as to the Croatian government for financial contributions to IUC. Let me also express our great gratitude to the Executive Committee, the Director General, the Executive Secretary and the Secretariat for their great efforts and their contributions to the successful development of IUC.

Sigmund Grønmo (Chair of the IUC Council)

Today, more than in some previous times of our history, despite the process of globalisation and technical advancements, the world is becoming more divided. Nations are closing within their borders and people have less faith in future due to global unresolved issues such as political tensions, violation of human rights, poverty, social inequalities, health issues and climate change.

Therefore, more than ever, there is a need for an independent international institution for advanced studies such as Inter-University Centre Dubrovnik. In this consortium of universities all members of the governing bodies, all course and conference organisers and lectures are dedicated individuals who freely offer their time, knowledge and enthusiasm to the academic community.

In forty five years of its existence and work, the IUC has served as a meeting place of professors, scientists and students from all corners of the world who come together to promote scientific excellence, understanding and tolerance, to learn about each other and from each other. In IUC programmes horizons are widening, intellect is becoming sharper and participants return to their home institutions with new international contacts, fresh ideas and inspiration for the future.

In the contemporary education system based on internet communication, it is inspiring to observe vivid interaction between professors and students that does not only comprise of lectures and learning, but also discussions and fellowship in the atmosphere of togetherness.

We need such free havens in our academic community to address numerous scientific and social issues that lay ahead. May Inter-University Centre Dubrovnik serve its purpose in the years to come!

IUC Internship Opportunity

The IUC Internship Programme welcomes all students who are interested to explore daily working environment of IUC Secretariat in Dubrovnik. Further information on www.iuc.hr

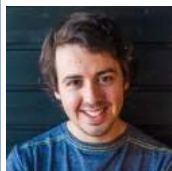

"My experience last summer undoubtedly allowed me to develop professionally, academically, and personally. Working in an international environment, participating in academic conferences, and living on your own in a foreign country are skills transferable to many future career opportunities. The IUC staff are always welcoming and helpful. I would highly recommend..."

- Ansley Vickers (USA)

"Participating in an internship was an amazing opportunity. I gained hands-on experience with the organization and facilitation of conferences & courses geared towards a global audience. I met people from all around the world, and at times, I was able to sit-in on a few courses that piqued my interest. Given the region's vibrant history, there is so much to do and see in Dubrovnik. It brings such positive changes to your life in ways you would have never imagined."

- Kati Rogers (USA)

"My experience is one I will definitely fondly cherish in my heart as it gave me a lot: it taught me the interesting history of the city, it showed me its beauty and, most importantly, made me meet such incredible people I had the luck to work with at the center. I cannot recommend it more,"

- Alberto Vaccari (Italy)

"Great experience of organizing top level academic events, incredibly friendly colleagues at the Secretariat, lots of opportunities to meet professors and students from all over the world, and just beautiful location! I would absolutely recommend it to anyone!"

- Aleksandra Baranova (Russia)

Support, Scholarships & Credit Points

The Croatian Ministry of Science and Education provides students and professors from Croatian academic and scientific institutions with four scholarships per course, which covered travel expenses and half board accommodation. The continuation of this support is expected. Applications may be submitted by course directors or interested candidates directly to the IUC Secretariat. For eligibility criteria and application form visit; www.iuc.hr/croatian-ministry.php

Furthermore, preferential attention should be paid to national funding institutions and foundations often providing scholarships or grants for postgraduate courses, e.g. DAAD (German Academic Exchange Service) offering scholarships for IUC courses.

For information visit: www.daad.de/stipends Students from Austria have to look on: www.grants.at

Inter-University Centre Dubrovnik offers support for PhD candidates coming from SE and E Europe and N Africa, participating in courses from humanities and social sciences. For eligibility criteria and more information visit: www.iuc.hr/iuc-support.php

Course and conference participants are requested to approach their course directors, the academic exchanges service at their home universities and of course the internet for further inquiries.

A certificate is awarded to each student who attends a full course and satisfactorily completes tasks established by course directors. Course directors secure the recognition of ECTS points at home universities. The decision on number of ECTS point is made in accordance with the university and the respective graduate and research training program. ECTS points will be measured by the necessary workload of the student to achieve defined learning outcomes and competences. The workload includes time the student needs for lectures, seminars, independent work, reading, learning, writing a paper and presenting a paper and/or exam.

How to organise an IUC programme?

The IUC welcomes new entries. Please apply! The IUC course or conference must be international (organised by at least two professors from two different countries, while lecturers and preferably students should be from at least three different countries) and at the advanced academic level (graduate, postgraduate or post-doc). Organising course and conference directors contact the IUC Secretariat to check the availability of space for a specific date. It is advisable to be flexible with dates, if it is possible.

Courses should have minimum 10, maximum 50 participants. This does not apply for conferences. Course organisers and participants are required to cover participation fees. Organisers coming from paying IUC member universities have a significant discount. It is also advisable to secure the academic points to participants at home universities. Applications for the next academic year with detailed course and conference information are submitted in spring and approved by the IUC Executive Committee.

For more information, please check the right column „New programmes“ on the IUC web page: www.iuc.hr/programme.php

Acknowledgement

We are grateful to the Univ Zagreb for securing the logistical infrastructure, and to the member institutions for supporting the operation with membership fees. Croatian Ministry of Science & Education offers the support for operation and scholarships. Support has been received from German DAAD and many foreign Embassies, such as American, British, Swiss, Dutch, Norwegian and Indian. Special thanks also goes to OSF, London. Finally, thanks are expressed to all course directors and home institutions of participants.

Foundation & History

The idea to establish the Inter-University Centre (IUC) was launched in 1970 at the meeting of the International Association of Universities, in Montreal, by Prof. Ivan Supek, at that time Rector of the University of Zagreb. He suggested building an institution fully in the hands of the cooperating scholars and universities, free of government control. The official inauguration took place in 1972.

The IUC was set as a consortium of universities and other scientific institutions. These universities are represented on IUC's Council and contribute toward the development of the IUC academic programmes.

Dubrovnik was chosen as the seat of the IUC because of its rich history as an independent city-state, prospering in the difficult position between East and West, between different religions and cultures. The city of Dubrovnik offered a building that could serve as a home for the international centre envisioned by Prof. Supek.

From the very beginning, the IUC responded to contemporary needs. In the period of the Cold War, concerned scholars saw the importance of creating new opportunities for contact and exchange of knowledge and ideas across division lines. There was a wish to strengthen the role of scientists in bridge building between nations and cultures, ideologies and political systems. The former Yugoslavia, as a non-aligned country, had the potential to provide conditions for contacts that could not otherwise be achieved. Dubrovnik, with its rich history, culture, its beauty and friendly atmosphere was an ideal site, and Inter-University Centre served as a breathing-hole between East and West.

The centre could not have been established without the generosity of the University of Zagreb, while vice versa IUC has given much in return by connecting young scholars from Croatia and the region to active international networks of scholars.

The Inter-University Centre soon became a place for vibrant academic exchange. It grew to more than 250 member institutions before the outbreak of the wars in 1991, in which former Yugoslavia fell apart. Following the wars, the number of member universities has declined to approximately 170 but the IUC continued with its mission to bring together members of the academic community from the region. The support of Open Society Foundation greatly helped offering scholarships to PhD candidates from former communist countries of the SE and E European region.

Today, the level of programme activities in courses and conferences remains as high as ever, and IUC governing bodies are supporting inter-disciplinary and cross-national collaboration on global challenges.

IUC Council. The IUC is structured as a consortium of universities and other scientific institutions that form the Centre's policies and objectives. Each Member institution delegates one representative to the, which is the policy-making and the highest governing body of the IUC. Council is responsible for the Constitution of the Centre, admission of new Members, establishment of fields of study and academic cooperation, budgetary matters, election of the Executive Committee and appointment of the Director General. It is chaired by Chair of the Council.

Executive Committee acts on behalf of the Council between Council meetings on the formation of the annual academic programme, acceptance of budget and financial reports and agreements and contracts with other institutions. It is chaired by Chair of the Executive Committee.

Director General is responsible for the functioning of the Centre, its programmes and finances.

IUC Association provides a legal basis for the functioning of the Centre, for the personnel, premises, equipment and required funding. It was registered in November 1994 in order to provide the continuity of the institution in the new legal settings of the Republic of Croatia. It is chaired by President of the Association.

All governing functions at the IUC are performed by dedicated members on voluntary basis.
